

Leeston School He Pana Karumata is proud to hold a Silver accreditation as an Enviroschool.

This initiative invites our tamariki/students to embark on a long-term sustainability journey, connecting with the environment while actively planning and taking action alongside our community.

As an Enviroschool, we run a group called 'Eco Warriors'. Our dedicated group, the Eco Warriors, plays a crucial role in promoting sustainable practices. Supported by our staff they tend to our vegetable garden, care for our hens and worm farm, harvesting and share produce, craft scarecrows and bug houses, recycle batteries, and participate in community planting events. They wear their Eco Warrior badges with pride!

Recently, the Eco Warriors sought input from the entire school to create a new Enviroschool vision map. With the help of our Enviroschool facilitator, they organized everyone's ideas into a cohesive sustainable vision, focusing on five key areas:

- We make no waste
- We nurture the Natural World
- We learn the way of energy
- We respect the Wai of water
- We build better, to be better
